All our Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM) programmes are designed to give practising or aspiring supervisors and managers a solid foundation in their formal development.

Summary

We combine face-to-face learning workshops and self study, with the support of a dedicated tutor to create a bespoke package of learning that is right for the candidates and provides a visible return on investment.

BENEFITS OF THE COURSE

- Get a nationally accredited qualification with one of our ILM packages
- Gain a range of key management skills to put them into practise in your own role
- Develop your own leadership and management skills, applying your own knowledge, values and motivations

About the Course

Candidates can study, in their own time and at their own pace, using their self study guide which then maximises the productivity of the workshops. All learning is measured against guided learning hours and credit value.

See the details of ongoing the programme and price includes assessment, completion, 1:1 support and all learning materials.

Please Note: candidates must also pay an ILM registration fee.*

Course Structure

All candidates attend an induction session, designed to help familiarise them with the programme and understand how their role fits with the qualification.

Each candidate will attend four relevant one-day workshops, to support their learning.

To complete the qualification, all candidates are required to complete two work-based assignments (one for each unit of study outlined below).

- Communication in the Workplace
- Problem Solving

Dedicated tutorial support is provided throughout the course and all candidates are eligible for membership of the ILM.
