We are constantly having to change the way we approach the working environment, through innovation and the advancement of technology. As managers, we need to learn to embrace these changes.

This Managing Virtual Teams course will examine the key elements that will help both individuals and managers to work more productively as a team.

Who is it for?

This course is aimed at anyone working in remote or virtual teams.

Numbers are limited to a maximum of 10 delegates to ensure that our experienced trainer has the time to assist each delegate with any personal complex points that may arise during the day.

What will you learn?

This course will begin by examining the connection between creating the right environment and building trust within virtual teams. We will also examine the importance of regular and clear communication between all team members.

Whilst communication tools are constantly being developed and improved through technological advancements, we will discuss some of the practical team and project tools available.

Finally, we'll examine how the manager can motivate and inspire the performance of both the individual and the team when they are in separate locations.
